

MSCI KLD 400 Social ex Fossil Fuels Index Methodology Component

The MSCI KLD 400 Social ex Fossil Fuels Index follows these following exclusions concerning fossil fuels:

- Explore for, extract, produce, manufacture or refine coal, oil or gas;
- Produce or transmit electricity derived from fossil fuels or transmit natural gas; or
- Have carbon reserves included in the KLD400 Index.

As of the May 2023 index rebalance, the Green Century Equity Fund will remove any securities that have been included in the MSCI KLD 400 Social ex Fossil Fuels Index that the Green Century Funds may identify as companies that qualify for the index but are identified as fossil fuel companies based on Green Century's Funds research and analysis, which may use information from As You Sow's Fossil Free Funds tool.

The rationale for additional screening of such securities from these indexes is to remove the potential inclusion of securities which may not meet the Green Century Equity Fund's Principle Investment Strategies for the MSCI KLD 400 Social ex Fossil Fuels Index as described in the Green Century Funds' prospectus.

Identification of securities as fossil fuels by Green Century Funds: Green Century Funds take a formulaic approach to identification of securities as fossil fuel companies. Green Century Funds will screen securities in the eligible universe of the MSCI KLD 400 Social ex Fossil Fuels Index and shares of companies identified as fossil fuel companies Green Century Funds' research and analysis will be identified for exclusion.

Frequency of fossil fuel security list review: The list of excluded investment trusts will be reviewed by Green Century Funds ahead of the MSCI's quarterly index and revised as necessary based on the above approach to identification of such securities. The list of securities will be notified to MSCI by Green Century Funds for exclusion quarterly.

Excluded securities: The securities excluded by this methodology component currently are Air Products & Chemicals, Inc and MDU Resources Group, Inc.
